Cagney Global Logistics, a leader in providing logistical and transportation services, today announced that it will serve as a Silver Sponsor and Exhibitor for the 2015 Home Delivery World Conference and Expo April 8-9, 2015 at the Atlanta Conference Center at AmericasMart in Atlanta, GA.

(PRWEB) February 09, 2015 -- Cagney Global Logistics, a leader in providing logistical and transportation services, today announced that it will serve as a Silver Sponsor and Exhibitor for the 2015 Home Delivery World Conference and Expo April 8-9, 2015 at the Atlanta Conference Center at AmericasMart in Atlanta, GA. The Conference provides opportunities for networking, as well as meetings and idea exchange among all sectors including Big Retailers, Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) and cutting edge solutions providers in the Home Delivery World.

Tom Cagney, CEO of Cagney Global Logistics, will be facilitating a VIP Conference Session roundtable discussion “Protecting Your Investment, Protecting Your Customer” on April 8th, as well as speaking at the Conference’s Seminar in the Expo Hall on April 9th at 10am about “Synchronizing your Home Delivery for Optimum Results.” Both events will take place at the Atlanta Convention Center.

In the constantly evolving home delivery industry, Cagney Global provides multi-channel distribution, service customization, supply chain optimization and client support. Rhonda Moon, Vice President of Client Solutions at Cagney Global said, “Tom Cagney is uniquely situated to provide insights applicable to home delivery supply chains of all sizes and structures, as he is an industry leader with proven results. Cagney Global understands the challenges of our retailers and vendors, getting product to customers how and when they want, through multiple channels and various retail formats, all the while maintaining outstanding customer service.”

During the April 8th roundtable Mr. Cagney will lead the group and discuss current issues and solutions of “Home Delivery Loss Prevention and Damage Control.” Reducing damages is a sore spot with every home delivery operation, where even the best laid plans of smart businesses can be undermined by damage, loss and claims. The April 9th Seminar “Synchronizing your Home Delivery for Optimum Results” will focus on an innovative approach to increasing the profit margin on the traditional home delivery operation.

“Cagney Global is committed to helping companies successfully plan and implement their home delivery strategies,” commented Tom Cagney. “By participating in the Home Delivery Conference it will provide Cagney Global with countless opportunities to share best practices, network and collaborate with other leaders in the industry, and develop new solutions for our clients. It also gives us great pride to be a part of such a beneficial event.”

Cagney Global Logistics will be also exhibiting in the Expo Hall April 8-9th and invite attendees to visit them at booth 103.
